You can count on me!

We read the story of 'And Tango Makes Three' in class, the children were hooked! Later we drew pictures of the penguin family and we played happy families with different type of family cards to help the children understand that there are many types of family.

No matter where you go,
you know you're not alone!

They were good daddies
cos they looked after the baby.

Robson

You don't need to have a mam and a dad,
you can have 2 mams
that love you.

Isla

It's a good family
cos it's got 2 dads
and they kind.

Jessie

Why might a family have more than one mam or dad?

We don't have to live in the same place cos even if your mam or dad lives far away, we still a happy family.

Isla

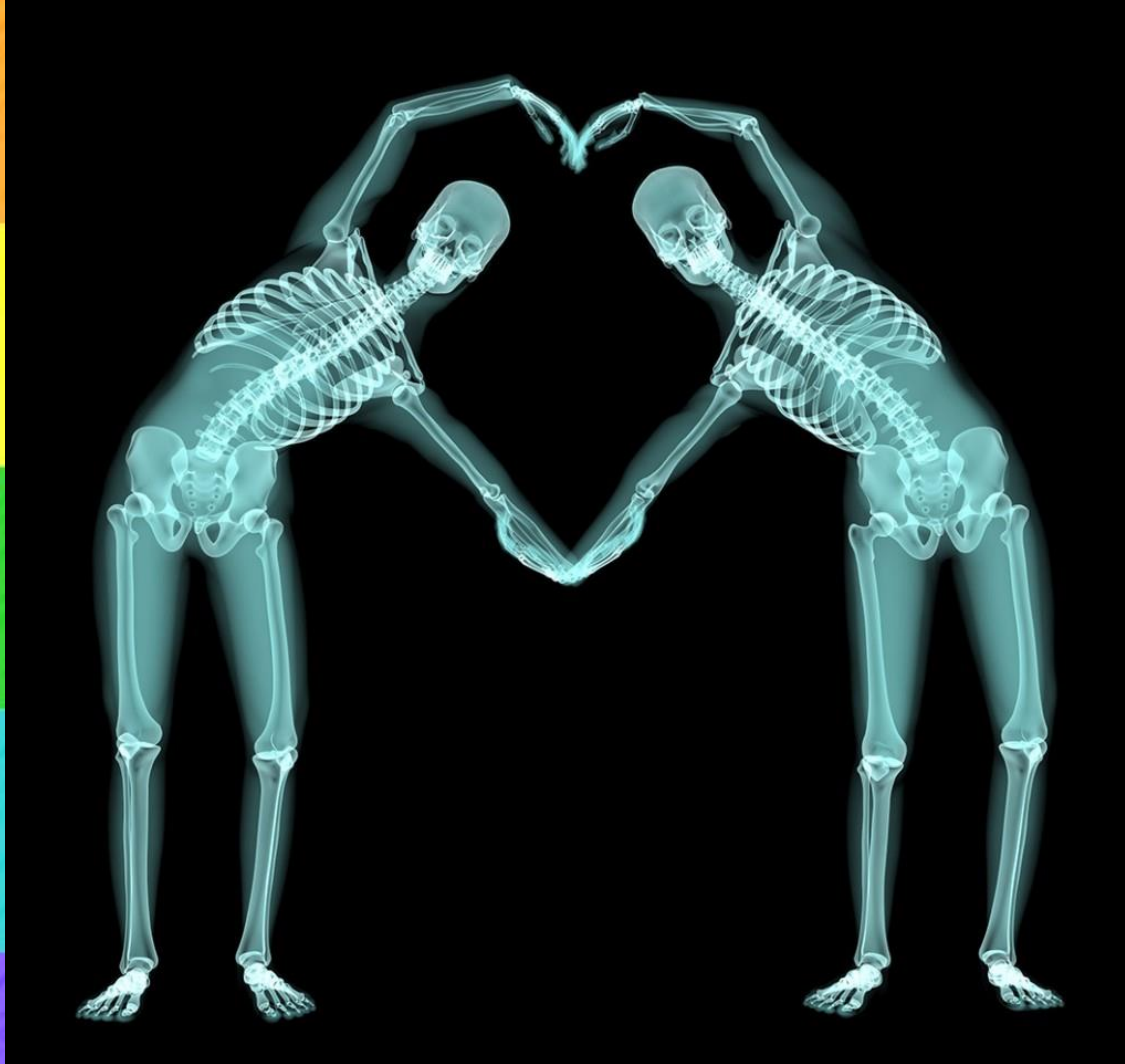

Maybe they got lonely with only one mam so they got another one.

Cobie

stereotype

prejudice

gender bias

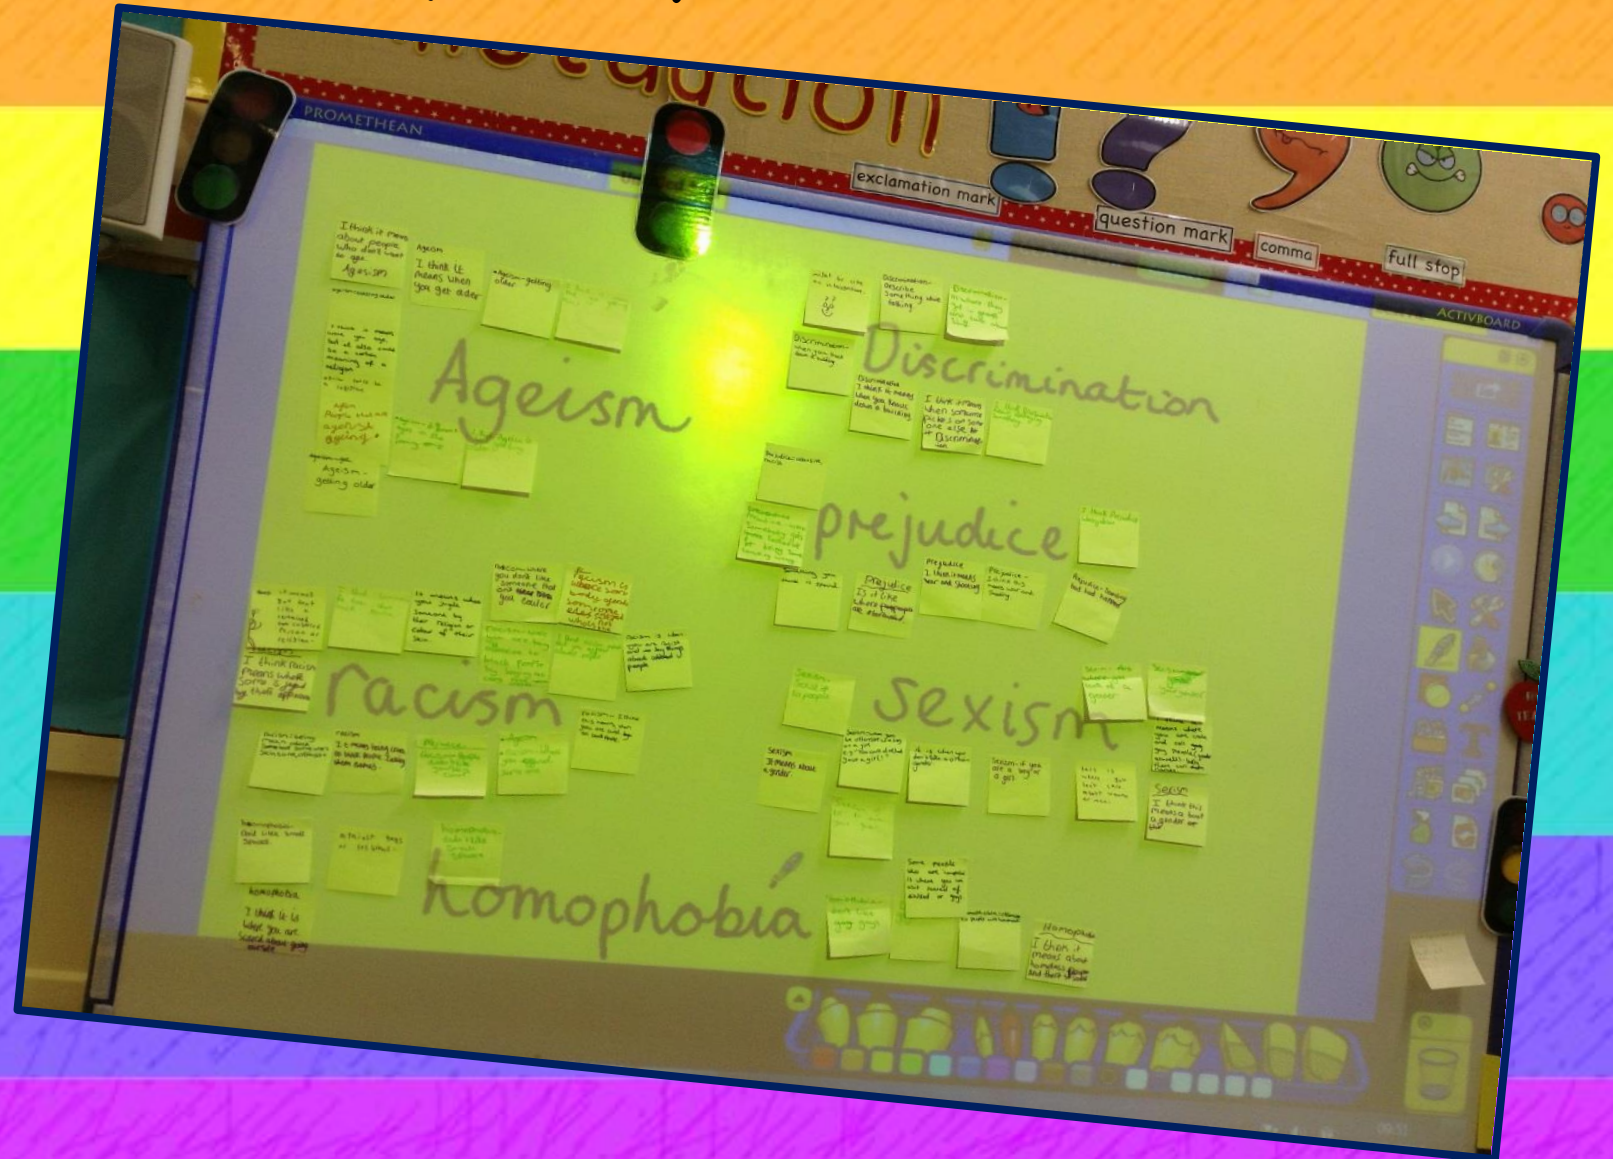

discrimination

homophobia

racism

What do these words mean to you?

Sexism is being
offensive to people
because of their
gender....'You can't do
that, you're a girl!'

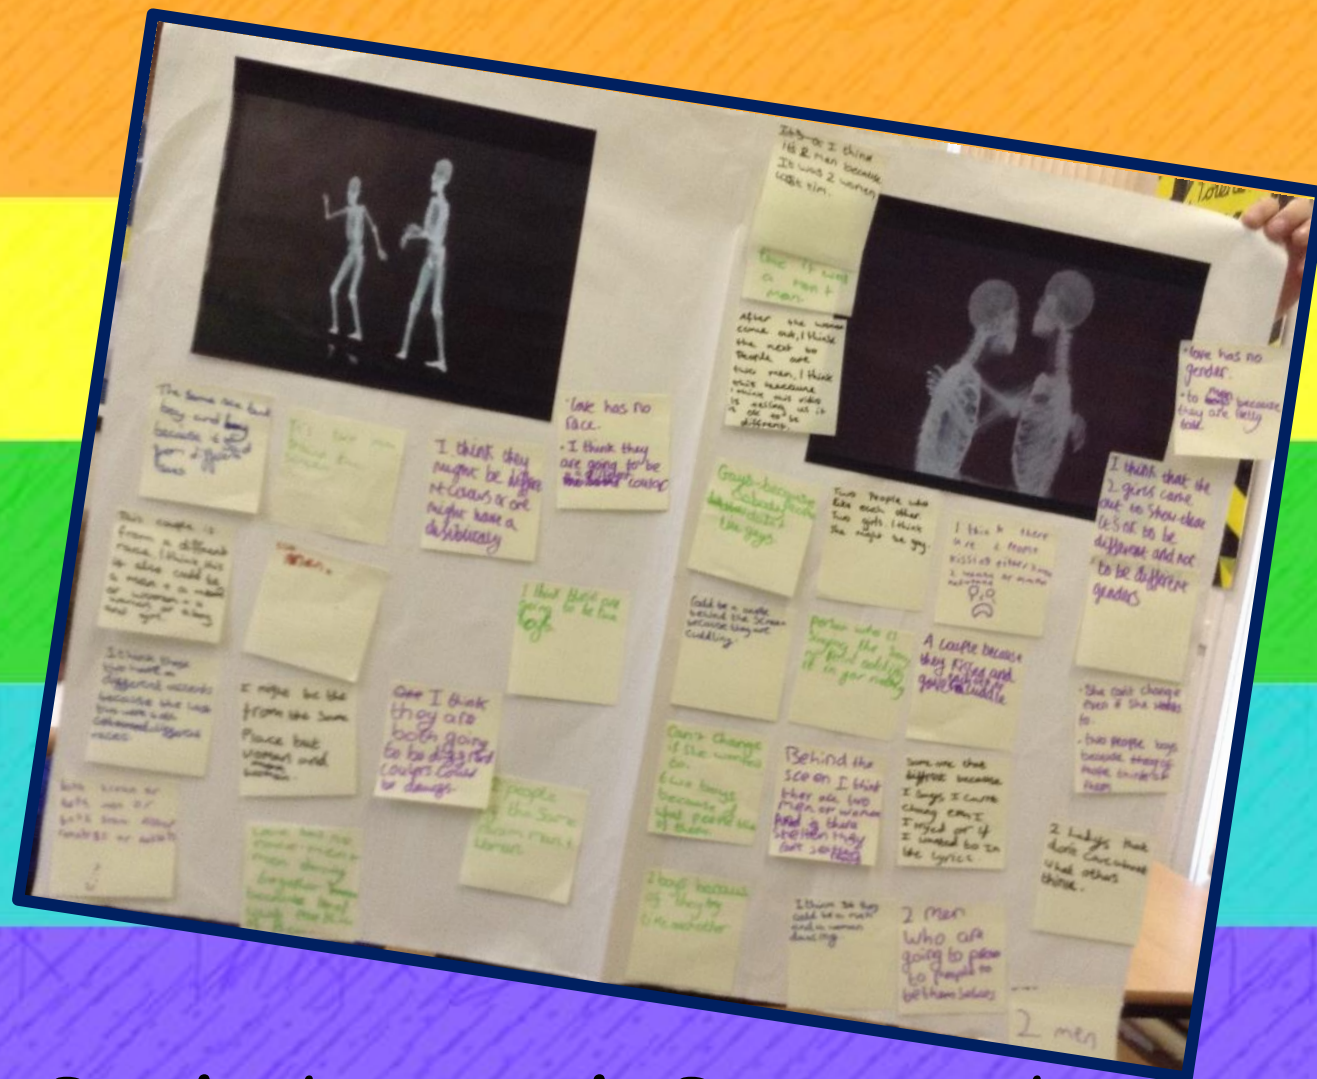

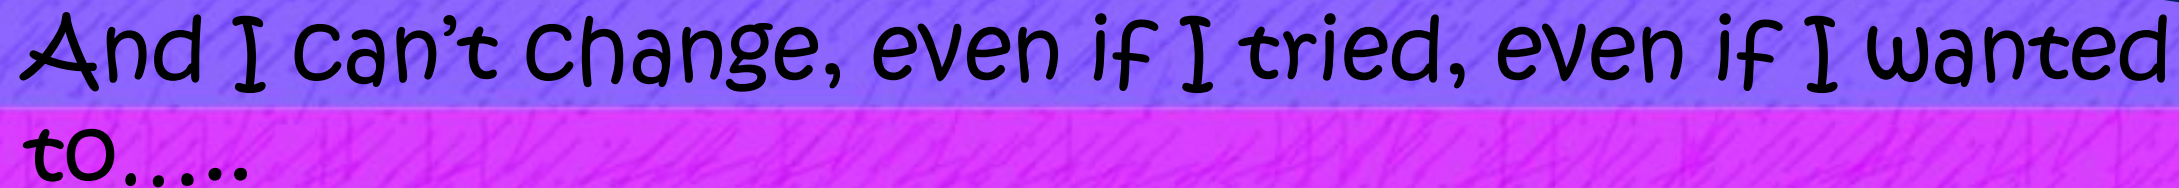

....Judging someone
because of their
religion or the colour
of their skin...

Prejudice causes
people to fight...I
hear it on the news,
when they talk about
war!

Who is behind the screen?

A family...

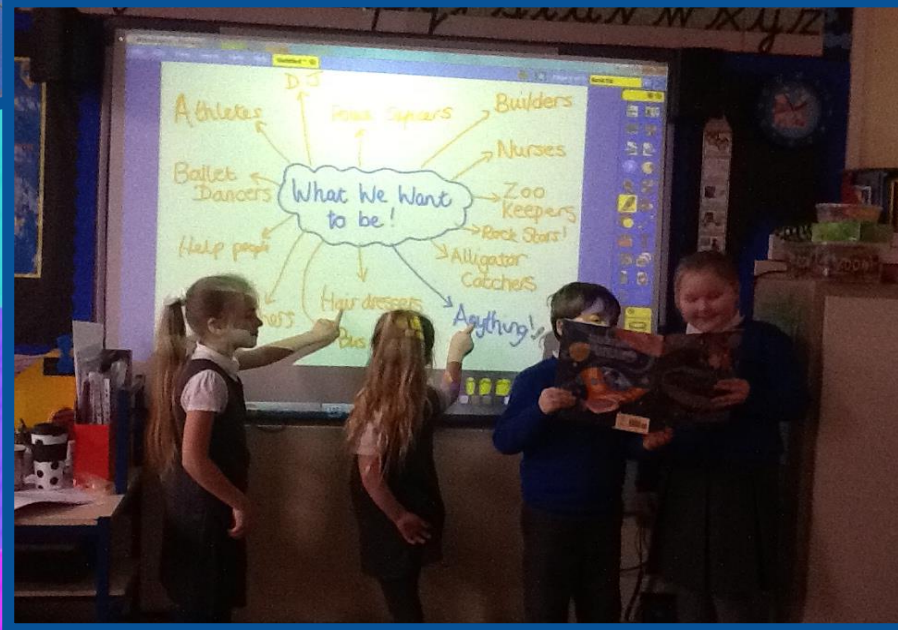

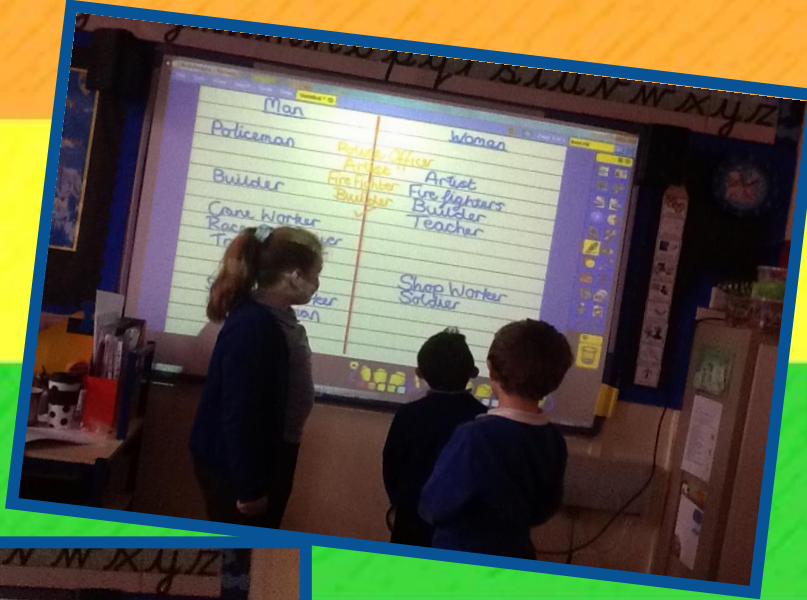

Keith Haring...pop art!

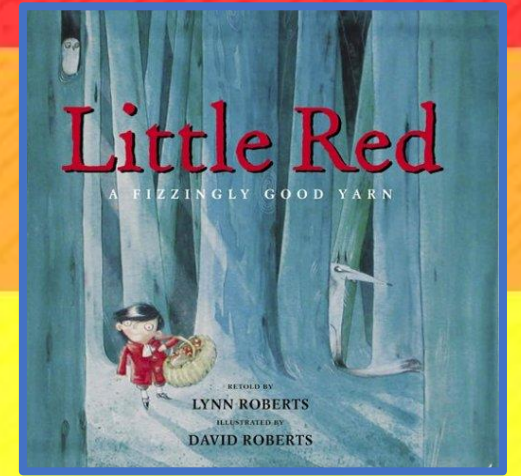

Our turn...

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Is there anything you can't do?

It's okay to be different!

Parents and Carers...thoughts and opinions

Reception parent "I think it is brilliant that my child has been given the opportunity to learn that there are different ways of being a family ."

Y6 parent "My child came home a few weeks ago and told me about some art work he'd done in his class. He was able to tell me all about the artist who had done a lot to raise awareness of AIDS through his art. It's not something we've really talked about before, but I was impressed with the maturity with which he discussed it."

Parents and Carers...thoughts and opinions

Nursery parent "My son loved the Tango makes Three tale about the penguin with two fathers and I am proud that my children's school is working to become an Educate and Celebrate school.

Y2 parent "It is vital that our children are learning at school to accept everyone regardless of age, religion, gender, sexuality and ethnicity".
